

Kentucky Community & Technical College System Optimizing Online Learning (KOOL) Conference – October 30, 2020

Tobin, “Lower Anxiety, Barriers, and Inequity for Remote Learners—Fast!”
Keynote

Participant Rating Results

Attendance: 205 Respondents: 87

1. This professional development was worth my time.
2. I will be able to use what I learned immediately.
3. The content covered will apply to my work as an online instructor.
4. I would recommend this program to my colleagues.

5. Please provide any additional comments here.

- Chatters were distracting.
- Dr. Tobin is an excellent presenter. Very informative and engaging.
- Excellent - so many ideas from both the speaker and colleagues.
- Excellent keynote. You did a great job personalizing the session. I had a couple takeaways and that doesn't happen often in keynotes.
- Excellent presentation!
- Excellent Session!
- Excellent session! I would like to see several sessions on these topics with Dr. Tobin breaking down each topic individually. Love this session!
- Excellent!
- Fantastic presentation and discussion with colleagues!
- Great conversation!
- Great flow between chat and presenter.
- Great format and engagement.
- Great insight on your perspective of the world of online learning. Very interesting! Thank you!
- Great job!
- Great presentation
- Great session
- I came in late but what I did hear was very useful information that I will utilize in my future courses. I will also go back and watch the recording. My takeaway is that as instructors we have to do all we can to ensure student success within reason while maintaining course integrity.

- I enjoyed hearing other's ideas that will be beneficial in creating a multiple choices for students to learn and reach out for assistance.
- I enjoyed this session very much--Thank you Dr. Tobin!
- I have no trouble being compassionate and flexible with due dates and assignment formats, but that flexibility takes so much more time. With budgets being cut, we're being asked to fit more students in our classes. I'm working harder and longer than ever before and still losing students.
- I really enjoyed how Dr. Tobin broke down Access, Assessment, and Inclusion with great examples and explanations. I have also realized I need to do better with silence when asking my students questions. Give them the opportunity to respond before I tell them!
- It challenged many "traditional" pedagogical approaches and teaching methods. This is important.
- It has been exhausting to try and reach and engage my students in the online class. Dr. Tobin has given me some great recommendations that I can think about and incorporate.
- It was a good talk and covered material that can have some uses in my course development
- Like the open deadline suggestion with 'you should be working on this'. It's not spoon feeding if I am suggesting while allowing a unit deadline which I do. This is not compromising, just facilitating.
- Presenter was very informed and I enjoyed it very much.
- Session information validated that I am using a lot of best practices in my class.
- Speaker was very professional and I enjoyed his presentation. I did not learn anything new.
- Thank you for highlighting that structure is still important while incorporating options and flexibility.
- Thank you.
- Thank you. It was great to hear from someone with years on online teaching experience.
- Thanks!
- The session was great when the focus was on education, however the inclusion part is not only not necessary it is by definition racist. Telling faculty and students to merely focus on immutable characteristics and to assume they either think or feel a certain way is the definition of racism and that anti-intellectual ideology needs be removed.
- The speaker was great, but much of this I already do.
- This session was eye-opening at how I design my online courses. I will be implementing a lot of the recommendations mentioned here into my courses.
- This was an AWESOME presentation. One of the most useful PD's I've attended.
- Timely, somewhat generic, I was hoping for more specific strategies, however engaging.
- Very helpful material.
- Very informational! Loved hearing different ideas.
- Very interesting and informative session.
- Wish I had this at the start of the fall.
- Wonderful presentation by a caring presenter!