To Whom It May Concern,

I am delighted to provide this testimonial for Dr Thomas J. Tobin, who presented at our Australian Disability Clearinghouse on Education and Training (ADCET) inaugural tertiary education symposium on Universal Design for Learning (UDL) titled "UDL In Action: the What, the Why, and the How of UDL." held virtually on the 5th and 7th of September, 2023.

The Symposium brought together experts, practitioners, researchers, and advocates from diverse fields to delve into the latest developments in Universal Design for Learning. Dr Tobin's contribution, insights and expertise were invaluable.

Dr. Tobin's keynote address and workshop were informative and engaging. Dr. Tobin's ability to convey the essence of UDL and practical applications left a lasting impression on our audience.

One delegate at the event beautifully summed up their experience by saying, "I learnt so much from Tom Tobin. The content of his presentation was excellent, but more than that, I learnt a tremendous amount from how he presented - he modelled UDL best practice. After participating in that session, I am inspired to do better as a teacher. I can't wait for the recording to watch it again."

Dr. Tobin's approachability and professionalism in dealing with our team made the entire process a breeze. His commitment to advancing inclusive educational environments and his passion for sharing knowledge were evident throughout the symposium.

In conclusion, Dr. Thomas J. Tobin's contributions were instrumental in making our ADCET inaugural tertiary education symposium on UDL a resounding success. We are immensely grateful for his dedication and expertise in promoting educational innovation and excellence. It is without reservation that we wholeheartedly recommend Dr. Tobin as a speaker and advocate for Universal Design for Learning.

We look forward to collaborating with him again in the future.
